Leafpool

"Destiny isn't a path a cat follows blindly. It's a matter of choice, and sometimes the heart speaks loudest. Listen to your heart, because that's where your true destiny lies."

-Leafpool, Sign of the Moon, pg 108

Did you know...

Bluestar thought it was cruel Pinestar named White-eye after her blind eye, when she ended up naming Lostface(Brightheart) after her face injuries. Wow, a hypocrite has been born!

(Extra fun fact!)

Many people have thought that Leafpool named Hollyleaf after Hollykit, Ferncloud's daughter, who was her first patient that died. But, if you read the book Leafpool's Wish, Leafpool didn't name Hollyleaf at all, she had wanted to name her daughter Crowkit, but Squirrelflight decided Hollykit fit her better. Nice sister here, doesn't even let the mother who's about to lose her kits even name them.

Yellowfang

"Sometimes the right choice is the hardest one."

-Yellowfang

Did you know...

In the book, Enter the Clans, it is said that Ashfoot, mother of Crowfeather, has one kit. His name, shockingly is Eaglekit. Is it possibly a typo? Or does Crowfeather have missing brother?

Extra Fact!

Mapleshade actually never cursed Crookedstar. It was just her guess, and a little bit of her meddling, like in the barn when Hailstar is killed. Mapleshade pushes Crookedjaw away, saying it's his destiny. Or when Rainflower died, he told himself it was the curse, when it was just him following the path he had chosen.

Spottedleaf

"Fire alone will save our clan"

-Spottedleaf, Into the Wild, pg 1

Did you know...

At the end of Moth Flight's Vision, Bubbling Stream's sister, Blue Whisker calls her Bubbling Spring. Cute nick name, if it were her sister's nick name. It's not.

Fun Fact!

None of Brambleclaw's(Bramblestar's) kits have never looked like him. Even his adopted kits. Hollyleaf was black with green eyes, Lionblaze is a golden tabby with amber eyes, Jayfeather is a light gray tabby with blind blue eyes, Sparkpelt is dark ginger with green eyes, and Alderheart is a dark ginger tabby with amber eyes. His dead son Juniperkit was claimed to be a dark brown tabby like his father, but he was still born, so the Tigerstar legacy has pretty much reached a close in ThunderClan. No more mini Tigerstars, Firestar is probably dancing in StarClan. That is until Sparkpelt and Larksong have kits.. >:)

Jayfeather

"Great, let's gather up all the useless cats and hope a tree falls on them."

-Jayfeather

Did you know...

Crowfeather could be related to Feathertail? Feathertail's mother, Silverstream was 1/4 WindClan, leaving the chances of Feathertail and Crowfeather being kin out there. Maybe that's why their relationship got crushed. >:) My puns are terrible, please stand by.

Fun fact!

Dustpelt and Ferncloud are uncle and niece. Let me explain, Brindleface is Dustpelt's sister, who is also Ferncloud's mother. Yeah...That's a terrible person to choose as your mate Dustpelt, and your kids don't learn (Glares at Foxleap) You just HAD to have a crush on Ivypool, didn't you? Well, too bad for him, she's dating Fernsong now, and he's her kin too. There's a whole prophecy on how they're related, and they still don't get MY STARCLAN, I SWEAR~~~

Crookedstar

"I'm sorry I can't make you proud of me. And I'm not finished yet. I'll do everything to make you proud I'm your son. But you'll never make me ashamed of who I am or what I look like."

-Crookedstar to Rainflower, Crookedstar's Promise

[image]

Did you know...

Leafpool was named after Leafstar and after Spottedleaf

Fun Fact

Crookedstar's name wasn't always Crookedstar, or Crookedjaw. Or even Crookedkit. His name for the first two moons of his life was Stormkit, named after the storm he and Oakheart were born in. His name changed about two moons after his fall on the stepping stones in the river beside RiverClan's camp. This caused his mother to reject him, and change his name.

[image]

Cinderpelt

"We cannot change our destiny, Leafpool. We just have to have the courage to know what it is and accept it."

-Cinderpelt to Leafpool, Twilight, pg 309

Did you know...

Yellowfang told Squirrelflight at her first time at the moon pool, that she couldn't have kits, putting forward the idea she should take Leafpool's. Unlike it appeared in Bramblestar's Storm, she actually was supposed to be sharing dreams with StarClan. What a great introduction ghosts, great job.

Hollyleaf

"The truth is the only thing that matters, ever."

-Hollyleaf, Hollyleaf's Story, pg 26

(The pictures won't load on this >:( )

Funfact!

Leafpool knew that Squirrelflight could have kits, but went along with Yellowfang's lie so that her sister would take Lionblaze, Jayfeather, and Hollyleaf. Wow, great sibling lessons with Leafpool.

Did you know...

Hollyleaf was Leafpool's first born, not Lionblaze. And then Lionblaze almost killed Leafpool because he got stuck. -_- apparently he was supposed to be a "Giant tom-kit" and then he some how magically is normal sized in The Sight. Supposedly, Leafpool's only thoughts on dying while giving birth were "My son!" not, He almost killed me! -_-

???

"Truth is a powerful weapon. We must be careful how we use it"

_Possibly Leafpool when talking to Hollyleaf about her true parentage..?

Tawnypelt's original design was of her being the color tawny with green eyes. (This design choice can only be found in the first warriors books, that have the original covers.)

Fun fact time!

Though it is not directly confirmed, it has been rumored that cats become medicine cats because they're gay. When you choose the path of a medicine cat, you're not allowed to love other cats, so it probably would be to avoid sticky situations when finding a mate. (This may also be proof because of the way Leafpaw(Leafpool) thinks of Mothwing in their first few encounters.)
